

Collaborative Story Making for West Town

Service Journey

Collaborative Story Making

The collaborative story making service is a platform for AIC and CPL to collect and mold stories from residents of the community into a complete narrative.

What is CPL's role?

- Collect stories from participants
- Provide expertise on neighborhood history
- Create an archive of collected stories

What is AIC's role?

- Provide expertise on raising human questions
- Provide artistic resource to interpret stories

What are the benefits to both CPL & AIC?

- Provide a new touchpoint to communities for ongoing relationship
- Have a consistent and scalable program
- Develop a deeper understanding of communities
